Introduction
*Describe content of toolkit.
*Describe background of topic
*Describe the source(s) for the toolkit content

This toolkit contains hashtags, Facebook posts, Instagram messages, videos and photos related to the Affordable Care Act and the open enrollment period starting October 1, 2019. These will come from the consumer standpoint and will hopefully help the consumer understand the deadlines and how to apply for coverage.

What is the Affordable Care Act? It is the comprehensive health care reform law enacted in March 2010, sometimes known as ACA, Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA) or even “Obamacare.” The ACA Health Insurance Marketplace (Marketplace) is the place where people who do not have health care coverage through their job or a government program, such as Medicare or Medicaid, can purchase health insurance. The open enrollment period for the 2019-2020 Marketplace is from November 1-December 15, 2019. The chosen plan will start on January 1, 2020.

The objective of the ACA is to improve the health of Americans by increasing the number covered by health insurance. Within this overall objective, the ACA has 3 primary goals (Healthcare.gov [Internet]):

- Make affordable health insurance available to more people. The law provides consumers with subsidies (“premium tax credits”) that lower costs for households with incomes between 100% and 400% of the federal poverty level
- Expand the Medicaid program to cover all adults with income below 138% of the federal poverty level. (Not all states have expanded their Medicaid programs.)
- Support innovative medical care delivery methods designed to lower the costs of health care generally.

The ACA provided the most significant regulatory overhaul and expansion of coverage of the U.S. healthcare system since the passage of Medicare and Medicaid in 1965. By 2016, the uninsured share of the population had roughly halved, with estimates ranging from 20 to 24 million additional people covered during 2016. The act largely retains the existing structure of Medicare, Medicaid, and the employer market but individual markets were radically overhauled. Insurers in these markets are made to accept all applicants and charge the same rates regardless of pre-existing conditions or sex.

Target audience/high-risk subsets
*Describe target audience
Everyone

*Describe high-risk or sub-populations, if appropriate
Those individuals who lack health insurance coverage.
Small businesses that do not offer health coverage

Target Audience Needs/Issues/Considerations
*Include considerations that the opposition may provide

The ACA has strong opposition. Since being signed into law in 2010, the PPACA has faced strong political opposition, calls for repeal and numerous legal challenges; its enactment is considered to be a catalyst for the Tea Party Movement. In National Federation of Independent Business v. Sebelius, the National Federation of Independent Business v. Sebelius, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that states could choose not to participate in the ACA’s Medicaid expansion although it upheld the law as a whole. Republican congressmen, governors, and Republican candidates have consistently opposed the ACA and have vowed to repeal it.\textsuperscript{1} Polls have consistently shown that it is supported by <50\% of Americans.\textsuperscript{3}

It may be difficult for people to understand how to get started. It is a bit of a complicated process and I personally thought the website of healthcare.gov was very confusing – all words and not very streamlined. It was hard for me to find information and the website was not “user-friendly.” However, there seems to be many ways to get help and some of the media here highlights that.

Supporting Campaigns

Include organizations that would have credible information and would be likely to have their own campaigns

- American Association of Retired Persons (AARP)
- U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (healthcare.gov)

TWEETS

Twitter best practices
- Keep it short and simple—although messages can be <280 characters now, keep them short anyway!
- Post often—it is recommended to post 3 tweets per day, with different framing to reach diverse populations
- Post other relevant content from partners or followers
- Use relevant hashtags (maximum of 2 hashtags)

Important: 2020 Open Enrollment is only a few weeks. If you don’t act by December 15, you can’t get 2020 coverage unless you qualify for a Special Enrollment Period. Plans sold during Open Enrollment start January 1, 2020.

To be eligible to enroll in health coverage through the Marketplace, you:
Must live in the United States.
Must be a U.S. citizen or national (or be lawfully present). Learn about eligible immigration statuses.

You can cancel your Marketplace coverage any time. You may need to do this if you get other health coverage, or for another reason. You can end coverage for:
- Everyone on the application after your coverage has started. Your termination can take effect as soon as the day you cancel, or you can set the Marketplace coverage end date to a day in the future — like if you know your new coverage will start on the first day of the following month.
- Just some people on the application. In most cases, their coverage will end immediately.

Enrollment in the state and federal health insurance marketplaces is for people who don’t have other health coverage. If you’re covered by your job or another government program like Medicare or Medicaid, there’s no need to buy a plan on the marketplace, and you won’t receive any tax credits or other financial assistance if you do.

Tweet 7
Under current law, health insurance companies can’t refuse to cover you or charge you more just because you have a “pre-existing condition” — that is, a health problem you had before the date that new health coverage starts. Americans planning to shop for health insurance on the Affordable Care Act’s (ACA) health insurance exchanges this fall will have a new way to compare the quality of the plans being offered. For the first time, the federal government will display its five-star quality rating system that includes how well patients on the plans say they work.

A payment ("fee," "fine," "individual mandate") you make when you file taxes if you don’t have health insurance that counts as qualifying health coverage for plan years 2018 and earlier. Starting with the 2019 plan year (for which you’ll file taxes in April 2020), the penalty no longer applies.

The Health Insurance Marketplace is for people who don’t have health coverage

If you don’t have health insurance through a job, Medicare, Medicaid, the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), or another source that provides qualifying health coverage, the Marketplace can help you get covered.

If you have job-based insurance: You can buy a plan through the Marketplace, but you'll pay full price unless your employer's insurance doesn't meet certain standards. Most job-based plans do meet the standards.
